Other Noted Oil Men Are Interested in Utab Field and Salt Lake Valley Is the Scene of Action.

All the world loves a man of determination. Sticktoltiveness, to use the phrase of the phrenologists, is a virtue which brings with it the admiration of the world, especially if in the end its possession is successful. The above remarks are called forth by the dogged determination of Col. Chas. K. Rowland to develop what he believes to be an oil field in the Salt Lake valley. Only oil field in the Salt Lake valley. Only a short time ago, two or three years at the farthest the oil men of the country ceased to look to Utah as a field. The "rigs" which had been in operation all over the state ceased work. Mr. Rowland appeared and in a short time the eyes of oil producers from all over the country were turned Utahward. The advent of the noted J. M. Guffey into the field north of the city through Mr. Rowland's efforts, is fresh in the memory of all. A well was drilled and then the big oil men seemingly retired from the field. Oil talk died down until it was a are thing to hear the fluid mentioned on the street.

C. K. Rowland, however, was not sat-

C. K. Rowland, however, was not sat-isfied. He was not even discouraged. His faith in the field was not even shaken. He set himself at work to bring other oil men with capital into the During the past summer Mr. Rowland succeeded in gaining the attention of Patello Higgins of Texas, and he came Patello Higgins of Texas, and he came to Salt Lake. He has been here how for some time, and in company with Mr. Rowland and B. S. Burroughs, the latter also a well known oil man, he has gone thoroughly over the field, with the result that he is now as enthusiastic as Mr. Rowland himself, Mr. Higgins says that he is confident that Higgins says that he is confident that the Sait Lake basin is an oil field, and the Salt Lake basin is an oil field, and to prove that confidence has become heavily interested in this section.

The name of Mr. Higgins will carry with it the restored confidence of the oil men of the country. He is beyond question the man who opened up the oil fields of Texas, in the development of the Beaumont field. It was he who stood at the back of Capt. Lucas, who brought in the first well on the renowned Spingle Top. d Spingle Top. Mr. Higgins is a man of great wealth, and there can be no question but that he will start in the near future to develop the field. The fact is that contracts have already been signed between Mesers. Higgins and Rowland, whereby the drill will be sounding the depths of the valley within a very short

Just what part of the field will be chosen as the scene of the renewed operations has not as yet been given out, but the intimation is that it will again be to the north of the city.

Mr. Higgins has associated with him a number of well known oil men, and a combination as strong as any in the country in a financial sense will push the work as it has never been pushed before in the history of drilling operation. before in the history of drilling opera-tions in Utah.

The history of oil development elsewhere has only been repeated here. The fact that the field has been abandoned once means nothing against the uti-mate success of the plucky operators. SNYDER RESUMES BUSINESS. Old Bingham Property Will be Developed During the Winter.

Work on the Snyder group at Bing-bam was resumed yesterday. This is one of the big groups of the camp, con-sisting of 14 claims which have been well developed, work having been pros-ecuted at periods during the first few years. The showing of ore in the mine is said to be fine, and it is the hope of the management to open up the vein for which they have been drifting for some time. Work will be pushed during the remainder of this winter.

LUCKY STAR ORES. Fine Showing Made in Blacksmith's Fork Canyon Property.

Special Correspondence.

Logan, Cache Co., Nov. I.—P. A. Nielsen, proprietor of the Lucky Star mine in Blacksmith's Fork canyon, has a wagonload of ore samples from the mine on exhibition in front of his store on Main street. Some of the samples are exceedingly right in rold and silven. are exceedingly rich in gold and silver, but the greater part of the ore body carries lead and copper in large propor-tions. One part of the vein is very high in lead, running as high as 82 per cent, while another part carries copper almost exclusively, assaying from 64 to 74 per cent. The shaft in which this ore body is found is now 79 feet deep, and the vein is 3 feet by 22, and enlarging as the shaft goes down. The company is running a tunnel to tap the vein below the shaft and expects to strike it in a few days. From the samples dis-played and the assays made the future of the mine looks very promising. A number of Logan people are interested
